Sources of Funds

Streamlined management to monitor availability/assignment methods and track spending, costs, appropriation and allocation of funds across multiple projects

Why Kahua

Flexibility: Adapt to specific policies, regulations and processes to strategically manage any type of project or program mix

Transparency: Streamline audit processes and board project status reporting with real-time data and robust project controls

Visibility: Identify potential setbacks and prepare for changes to minimize risk and excessive cost of construction delays

Compliance: Simplify the process of managing multiple funding sources to avoid audits, penalties and loss of funding

“We chose Kahua for Education for its modern platform, allowing us to use the PMIS the way we work and need to manage our capital programs across Santa Clara School District. From specific workflows to managing multiple sources of funds, spending and costs, we are confident we can deliver to our students and our community next-generation learning environments, on time and on budget.”
