

Modern Solutions for the Transportation Industry

Agencies and owners in the transportation industry face a unique set of complex challenges when it comes to planning and delivering projects. Climbing material costs, logistical challenges and ever-increasing public scrutiny make it critical that all stakeholders align on how to manage and optimize each phase to deliver the project successfully.

Kahua helps address these unique challenges, aids in portfolio optimization and supports data-driven decisions. The one-of-a-kind Kahua platform is flexible and agile to conform to your requirements today and can easily adapt to unknown demands in the future.

Manage Multiple Sources of Funds with Ease

- Manage and track the many colors of money that fund your projects and programs
- Define levels of public and private funding sources and determine the timing of available funding with appropriations, reserves and releases to programs and projects
- Enhance audit performance and determine exactly how to constrain budgets, commitments and spending based on defined controls and available funds

Leverage Data Intelligence for Improved Decision Making

- Create a secure central point of truth for project data with real-time reporting
- Use hierarchical views to see data across any project or program level
- Get a 360-degree view of historical and current data, future trend predictions, risk notifications and mitigation plans

Improve Collaboration for Advanced Project Execution

- Incorporate your unique policies, regulations and processes to support effective project governance
- Organize and manage documents and information being exchanged, including deadlines and requests for approvals
- Share the latest approved information across teams to reduce errors, change orders and delays

Trusted by transportation leaders across the nation

“In Kahua, we saw some key differentiators, most importantly, the ability to easily build custom applications that conform to our business processes rather than us tailoring our business processes to the system.”
